

From: David Flory
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/23/01 2:14am
Subject: Microsoft settlement

I find it absolutely ludicrous that the United States Department of Justice feels that it is an appropriate punishment for illegal monopoly practices to give MS a chance to increase their OS monopoly by letting them give mediocre computers and software to schools that can't afford to refuse the gift. This verges on malfeasance by the DOJ and makes me really wonder if the DOJ people involved are honest.

I'm ashamed to see a convicted organization rewarded instead of being punished as any other company would be.

Fairwinds and happy bytes,

--

Dave Flory, San Jose, CA. daflory@pacbell.net Go Sea Kayaking!! (C)2001

Speak softly and study Aikido, then you won't need a big stick.
